MATCH FACTS

- Everything is still to play for on matchday three in Group E of the TotalEnergies CAF Africa Cup of Nations Morocco 2025 when Sudan and Burkina Faso meet at the Stade Mohamed V in Casablanca. Kick-off is at 17h00 local time (16h00 GMT).

- Both teams remain in contention for a place in the Round of 16 alongside group winners Algeria. A draw will be sufficient for Burkina Faso to progress, while Sudan must secure victory to advance to the knockout stages.

- This will be just the second competitive meeting between the two nations and their first clash at the AFCON finals since 2012.

- Sudan head coach Kwesi Appiah previously faced Burkina Faso at the AFCON while in charge of Ghana, losing a 2013 semi-final encounter that ended 1–1 before the Black Stars were defeated 3–2 on penalties.

- The sides' only previous meeting came on matchday three of the 2012 Africa Cup of Nations. Sudan claimed a 2–1 victory thanks to a brace from Mudhather Karika, while Issiaka Ouédraogo scored a late consolation goal for Burkina Faso.

- Sudan progressed from Group B alongside Côte d'Ivoire, who finished as group winners, while Burkina Faso ended bottom of the group.

Past AFCON Meetings

30 January 2012:
Sudan 2 (Mudhather Karika 33′, 79′) Burkina Faso 1 (Issiaka Ouédraogo 90+5′)

SUDAN FACTS

- Defeated Equatorial Guinea 1–0 in their most recent group match.
- Benefited from an own goal against Equatorial Guinea, becoming the first team to profit from an own goal at the 2025 AFCON.
- Ended a run of five winless matches at AFCON with the victory over Equatorial Guinea.
- Their previous AFCON victory prior to that came against Burkina Faso in 2012.
- Were on a three-match losing run before their most recent win.
- Last avoided defeat before AFCON 2025 in a 0–0 draw against Guinea-Bissau in their opening group match in 2021.
- Have won just two of their last 17 AFCON matches (D6 L9).
- Record in final group matches at AFCON: P7 W3 D1 L3.
- Have won their final group match three times, in 1963, 1970 and 2012.
- Recorded their biggest AFCON finals win in a final group match, defeating Nigeria 4–0 in 1963.
- Have lost their final group match three times, in 1972, 2008 and 2021.
- Suffered their heaviest final group match defeat in a 3–0 loss to Cameroon in 2008.

SUDAN FACTS

- Victory would see Sudan win successive AFCON matches for the first time since 1970, when they beat Cameroon in the final group game, Egypt in the semi-final and Ghana in the final.
- Victory would also see Sudan win successive group-stage matches at AFCON for the first time ever.
- Recorded just 34.3% possession against Algeria earlier in the tournament.
- Completed only 153 passes against Equatorial Guinea, the lowest total by a team winning an AFCON match since Mauritania completed 108 passes in their win over Algeria in 2023.

BURKINA FASO FACTS

- Opened their group campaign with a win over Equatorial Guinea before losing 1–0 to Algeria.
- Have lost three of their last four AFCON matches, including their final group game and Round of 16 match in 2023, and the defeat to Algeria at the current edition (W1).
- Have conceded in each of their last five AFCON matches.
- Last kept a clean sheet at AFCON in a 1–0 win over Mauritania in their opening group match of the 2023 tournament.
- Conceded their eighth penalty at AFCON against Algeria, with only DR Congo (11), Mali (10) and Algeria (9) having conceded more.
- Qualification for the knockout stages would see Burkina Faso progress from the group stage for the sixth time, after doing so in 1998, 2013, 2017, 2021 and 2023.
- Progression would mark a fourth consecutive AFCON in which they have advanced beyond the group stages, extending their current national record.
- Since 2013, they have been eliminated at the group stage only once, in 2015.
- Record in final group matches at AFCON: P13 W2 D2 L9.
- Have kept just three clean sheets across their 13 final group matches.
- Have won their second group match at AFCON only twice, in 1998 (1–0 vs Guinea) and 2017 (2–0 vs Guinea-Bissau).

BURKINA FASO FACTS

- Have lost their final group match on nine previous occasions.
- Have avoided defeat in their final group match just three times in their last 10 appearances, drawing in 2013 and 2021 and winning in 2017.
- Hit the woodwork in their match against Algeria.
- Edmond Tapsoba completed 52 passes against Algeria, the most by a Burkina Faso player in the match.
- Bertrand Traoré played 20 passes into the final third, the most in the match against Algeria.
- Gustavo Sangaré was involved in 18 duels against Algeria, winning 12 of them.

MATCH FACTS

- Equatorial Guinea and Algeria close out their Group E campaigns at the TotalEnergies CAF Africa Cup of Nations Morocco 2025 with contrasting fortunes when they meet at the Complexe Sportif Prince Héritier Moulay El Hassan in Rabat on Tuesday, 31 December. Kick-off is at 17h00 local time (16h00 GMT).

- Already eliminated at the group stages for the first time in their AFCON history, Equatorial Guinea will be playing for pride as they look to end the tournament with a win. Algeria, by contrast, have already secured top spot in the group and a place in the Round of 16, returning to the knockout stages after successive early exits.

- This will be the second meeting between the sides at an Africa Cup of Nations finals, following their memorable clash at the 2021 edition.

- Equatorial Guinea famously defeated the then defending champions during their second group match of the 2021 tournament, with Esteban scoring the only goal of the game in the 70th minute.

- Equatorial Guinea went on to finish runners-up in Group E behind Côte d'Ivoire, while Algeria ended bottom of the group behind Sierra Leone.

- The teams were also paired together during qualification for the 2025 Africa Cup of Nations. Algeria won the home fixture 2–0 on 5 September 2024, with Houssem Aouar scoring in the 69th minute and Amine Gouiri adding a second in stoppage time.

- The return fixture in Malabo on 14 November 2024 ended in a goalless draw.

- Both sides progressed to the finals in Morocco ahead of Togo and Liberia, with Algeria winning five of their six qualifiers and only failing to defeat Equatorial Guinea.

EQUATORIAL GUINEA FACTS

- Have lost their opening two group games at AFCON 2025, 2–1 against Burkina Faso and 1–0 against Sudan.
- Both defeats at the current edition have been by a single-goal margin.
- Have lost their opening two games at an AFCON finals for the first time.
- Are eliminated at the group stages for the first time in their AFCON history.
- Had previously progressed from the group stage in all four prior appearances (2012, 2015, 2021, 2023).
- This is the first time they have lost successive group games at the same AFCON edition.
- This is also the first time they have lost their second group game (previously W3 D1).
- Two defeats is their highest number of losses in a single AFCON group stage.
- This is the second time they have lost two consecutive matches at the same AFCON, after defeats to Zambia and Côte d'Ivoire in 2012.
- This is the second time they have failed to win either of their opening two group matches, having drawn both in 2015 before beating Gabon to progress.
- Have now lost their last three AFCON matches, their longest losing run at the finals.

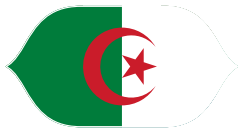

EQUATORIAL GUINEA FACTS

- Their last three AFCON defeats have all been by a single goal.
- Record in final group matches at AFCON: P4 W3 D0 L1.
- Have won their final group match in 2015 (2–0 vs Gabon), 2021 (1–0 vs Sierra Leone) and 2023 (4–0 vs Côte d'Ivoire).
- Their only defeat in a final group game was 1–0 against Zambia in 2012, after qualification had already been secured.
- All four of their previous final group matches at AFCON have produced a winner.
- Their 4–0 win over Côte d'Ivoire in 2023 is their biggest victory at the tournament.
- Failure to win this match would see them leave an AFCON finals winless for the first time.
- Have failed to score in two of their last three AFCON matches.
- Completed 382 passes against Sudan, compared to Sudan's 153.
- Recorded 65.7% possession in the match against Sudan.
- Saúl Coco attempted 77 passes against Sudan, completing 73, the most by any player in the match, and made 10 line-breaking passes.
- Coco scored an own goal against Sudan, becoming the second Equatorial Guinea player to score an own goal at AFCON, after Esteban Orozco in 2023 against Guinea-Bissau.

ALGERIA FACTS

- Opened their group campaign with a 3–0 win over Sudan, followed by a 1–0 victory against Burkina Faso.
- Have qualified for the knockout stages at AFCON for the first time since winning the title in 2019.
- Were eliminated at the group stage in their previous two AFCON appearances in 2021 and 2023.
- Have progressed beyond the group stages for the 12th time in 21 AFCON appearances.
- For the second time at an AFCON hosted by Morocco, Algeria have passed the group stage, having finished third in 1998.
- Have started an AFCON with back-to-back wins for the first time since 2019.
- Last won all three group matches at AFCON in 2019.
- On both previous occasions when they won all three group games (1990 and 2019), Algeria went on to win the tournament.
- Have opened the tournament with successive clean sheets for the first time since 2019.
- Last kept three clean sheets in a single group stage in 2019.
- The clean sheet against Burkina Faso was Algeria's 29th at AFCON.

ALGERIA FACTS

- Have lost just one of their last four group matches at AFCON, the 1–0 defeat to Mauritania in their final group game in 2023.
- Have failed to score in only one of their last six AFCON matches.
- Riyad Mahrez scored against Burkina Faso, taking his AFCON goal tally to nine.
- Mahrez is Algeria's all-time leading AFCON goalscorer, three clear of Lakhdar Belloumi.
- Has scored in successive AFCON matches for the first time.
- Has scored three goals in a single AFCON finals for the second time, also doing so in 2019.
- Became the first Algerian to score in the opening two matches of an AFCON since Baghdad Bounedjah in 2023.
- No Algerian player has ever scored in all three group matches at a single AFCON edition.
- Algeria's record in AFCON matches in which Mahrez has scored stands at W6 D1.
- Seven of Mahrez's nine AFCON goals have come in the group stages.
- At 20 years and 34 days, Ibrahim Maza became the second youngest player to start a match for Algeria at AFCON since 2010.

MATCH FACTS

- Gabon will round off their TotalEnergies CAF Africa Cup of Nations Morocco 2025 campaign with a final Group F fixture against defending champions Côte d'Ivoire at the Grand Stade de Marrakech on 31 December. Kick-off is at 20h00 local time (19h00 GMT).

- Gabon are already eliminated from the competition, while Côte d'Ivoire require at least a draw to secure progression to the knockout stages.

- This will be the first meeting between the two sides at the Africa Cup of Nations finals.

- The two teams have met 18 times previously across all competitions. Côte d'Ivoire hold the clear edge with 10 wins, while Gabon have four victories and there have been four draws.

- They have met in AFCON qualifying for the 1972 and 2008 tournaments. Across those four games, Gabon failed to record a win, with Côte d'Ivoire claiming four victories along with one draw.

- Their most recent meetings came in 2026 FIFA World Cup qualifying. Côte d'Ivoire won the first match 1-0 in Korhogo on 7 June 2024, with Seko Fofana scoring the winning goal in the 36th minute. The return fixture ended goalless on 9 September 2025 in Franceville. Côte d'Ivoire qualified for the 2026 FIFA World Cup, while Gabon advanced to a continental play-off tournament, where they ultimately failed to qualify.

- Côte d'Ivoire's biggest victory in the fixture was a 5-0 win in 2008 AFCON qualifying on 7 October 2006 in Abidjan. Arouna Koné scored a hat-trick, with Kolo Touré and Aruna Dindane adding the other goals.

- All four of Gabon's wins in the fixture have been by a single-goal margin, while all four draws between the sides have ended 0-0.

GABON FACTS

- Are eliminated after defeats to Cameroon and Mozambique.
- This is their sixth group-stage elimination in nine AFCON appearances.
- Have also exited at the group stage in 1994, 2000, 2010, 2015 and 2017.
- Have progressed beyond the group stage just once in their last four AFCON appearances, in 2021.
- Conceded three goals against Mozambique, the first time they have conceded three in an AFCON match since a 3-1 loss to Algeria in their second group game in 2000.
- Have won just one of their last 11 AFCON matches (D6 L4), having won four of the previous five (D1).
- Are now five games without a win at AFCON, with their last victory coming against Comoros in their opening match in 2021 (D3 L2).
- Have begun an AFCON campaign with successive defeats for the first time since 2000, when they lost to South Africa and Algeria.
- Have never lost all three group matches at a single AFCON edition; in 1994 they lost both group games, with only three teams per group at that tournament.
- Should they lose, they will finish an AFCON campaign without a point for only the second time, after 1994.

GABON FACTS

- Should they fail to win, it will be the fourth time they have exited without a victory, along with 1994, 2000 and 2017.
- Pierre-Emerick Aubameyang scored his seventh AFCON goal against Mozambique, the most by a Gabonese player at the tournament.
- Aubameyang became the 14th Marseille player to score at AFCON since 1992, with only ES Tunis having produced more different goalscorers (19).
- At 36 years and 193 days, Aubameyang became the second-oldest player to score at AFCON since Hossam Hassan (39 years, 177 days) for Egypt against DR Congo in 2006.
- Gabon won the first four AFCON matches in which Aubameyang scored, but have failed to win the last three (D2 L1).
- Defeat to Mozambique was the first time Aubameyang scored in an AFCON match that Gabon went on to lose (previously W4 D2).

CÔTE D'IVOIRE FACTS

- Began the tournament with a win against Mozambique, followed by a 1-1 draw against Cameroon.
- Failed once again to defeat Cameroon at AFCON, having won just one of nine meetings in open play. Their 11% win rate against Cameroon is the second lowest against any opponent they have faced at least twice, with only Egypt lower at 9%.
- Victory over Mozambique was their 49th win at AFCON; another win would make them the fourth nation to reach 50, after Egypt (61), Nigeria (60) and Ghana (54).
- Have scored in their last six AFCON matches, last failing to score in their final group game against Equatorial Guinea in 2023.
- Emerse Faé remains unbeaten as Côte d'Ivoire coach at AFCON (W3 D2).
- Côte d'Ivoire have scored in all five AFCON matches under Faé.
- Progression would see them reach the knockout rounds for a third successive tournament.
- Their last group-stage exit came in 2017.
- Reaching the next round would mark a 17th overall progression beyond the group stage.
- Since 2006, they have been eliminated at the group stage just once in 10 tournament appearances, in 2017.

CÔTE D'IVOIRE FACTS

- Their record in final group matches stands at P25 W11 D4 L9.
- Their last 14 final group games have produced goals; they were last involved in a 0-0 draw in a final group game in 1994 against Congo.
- Have twice featured in seven-goal final group matches: a 6-1 win over Ethiopia in 1970 and a 5-2 victory over Angola in 1998.
- Lost their final group match in 2023, a 4-0 defeat to Equatorial Guinea, their heaviest loss at AFCON.
- Amad Diallo has scored in Côte d'Ivoire's opening two matches and is the second Ivorian, across successive tournaments, to score in successive games, after Sébastien Haller in the 2023 semi-final and final.
- Diallo is the first Ivorian to score in the opening two group matches at AFCON since Yaya Touré and Gervinho in 2013.
- A goal would make Diallo the first Ivorian to score in all three group matches at a single AFCON edition.
- Côte d'Ivoire have scored 11 goals from outside the box at AFCON since 2010, more than any other nation.
- They attempted 13 shots against Cameroon, with only two on target.

MATCH FACTS

- Progression will be at the forefront for both Mozambique and Cameroon when they meet in their final Group F match at the 2025 TotalEnergies CAF Africa Cup of Nations. The fixture will be played at the Grande Stade d'Agadir, with kick-off at 20h00 local time (19h00 GMT).

- This will be the first meeting between the sides at the AFCON finals and the ninth overall encounter between the two nations. Cameroon have dominated the fixture historically, winning seven of the previous eight matches, with Mozambique recording a single victory.

- Cameroon have won their last seven meetings with Mozambique. Their first encounter came in qualifying for the 1984 AFCON, a campaign that would eventually lead to Cameroon lifting the trophy for the first time.

- In that qualifying tie, Cameroon were forced to overturn a heavy first-leg defeat. They lost 3–0 in Maputo on 10 April 1983 before responding with a 4–0 victory in Yaoundé on 24 April 1983, progressing 4–3 on aggregate. Cameroon would go on to win the 1984 AFCON, hosted by Côte d'Ivoire.

- Each of the previous eight clashes between the sides has produced a winner. Those matches have yielded 27 goals at an average of 3.40 per game, with Cameroon outscoring Mozambique 21–6. Cameroon's 21 goals against Mozambique have come at an average of 2.63 goals per game.

- Mozambique have kept one clean sheet in eight games against Cameroon, while the Indomitable Lions have recorded four. On two occasions when winning the AFCON, in 1984 and 2000, Cameroon eliminated Mozambique during qualifying.

MATCH FACTS

- The teams have met in three AFCON qualifying campaigns, for the 1984, 2000 and 2021 editions, with Cameroon progressing ahead of Mozambique on all three occasions. In qualifying for the 2000 AFCON, Cameroon won 1–0 at home on 28 February 1999 before claiming a 6–1 victory in Maputo on 11 April 1999.

- As hosts of the 2021 AFCON, Cameroon were drawn in Mozambique's qualifying group. They won 4–1 at home and 2–0 away to finish top of Group F, while Mozambique failed to qualify.

- The most recent meetings came in 2022 FIFA World Cup qualifying. Cameroon won 3–1 in Douala on 8 October 2021, with Eric Maxim Choupo-Moting scoring twice and Karl Toko Ekambi adding the other goal. Geny Catamo scored for Mozambique. Cameroon then won the return match 1–0 in Tangier on 11 October 2021 through Michael Ngadeu to progress to the 2022 FIFA World Cup in Qatar.

MOZAMBIQUE FACTS

- Won their first-ever AFCON match with a 3–2 victory over Gabon in their previous game.
- Recorded their first-ever win at the AFCON finals with victory over Gabon.
- The match against Gabon was their 17th at AFCON, having failed to win any of their first 16 games (D4 L12).
- The win over Gabon marked the first time in 16 AFCON matches that Mozambique had scored three goals in a game.
- Have scored three goals at the current finals, the most they have managed in their opening two games of a single AFCON edition.
- Are still yet to keep a clean sheet at AFCON.
- All 17 of their AFCON matches have produced goals.
- Will progress to the knockout stages with a win and could also advance with a draw.
- Progression would see them reach the knockout rounds for the first time in their sixth AFCON appearance.
- Avoiding defeat would see them do so in successive matches for the first time.
- Should they not lose, it would be only the second time they have avoided defeat in two matches at the same AFCON edition, having drawn twice in 2023.

MOZAMBIQUE FACTS

- The match against Gabon was the 13th time at AFCON that they have conceded two or more goals in a game (D3 L9).
- Their record in final group games stands at P5 W0 D1 L4.
- Have lost their final group game four times previously, in 1986, 1996, 1998 and 2010.
- Failed to score in three previous final group games, scoring only in a 3–1 loss to Zambia in 1998 and a 2–2 draw with Ghana in 2023.
- Have only avoided defeat in their final group game once, a 2–2 draw with Ghana in 2023 after trailing 2–0, with late goals from Geny Catamo and Reinaldo Mandava.
- Catamo has scored at two AFCON editions, also netting in the 2–2 draw with Ghana in 2023.
- Catamo scored and assisted against Gabon, becoming the first Mozambican player to do so in an AFCON match.
- Mozambique scored three goals from five shots on target against Gabon.
- Faced 10 shots on target against Gabon, with goalkeeper Ernan Siluane making eight saves.
- Siluane has made a total of 11 saves across two games at the current finals.

CAMEROON FACTS

- Opened the tournament with a win over Gabon before coming from behind to draw 1–1 against Côte d'Ivoire in their second match.
- Have scored in their last seven AFCON matches, last failing to do so in their 0–0 draw and subsequent penalty shootout defeat to Egypt in the 2021 semi-finals.
- Have scored in their last eight group-stage matches, last failing to score in a 0–0 draw with Benin in their final group game in 2019.
- Have conceded in six of their last seven AFCON matches, with their only clean sheet in that run coming against Gabon in their opening game.
- Have kept one clean sheet in their last eight AFCON group matches, conceding 12 goals in that period.
- Their record in final group games reads P21 W8 D10 L3.
- Were winless in their final group game across five editions before defeating Gambia in 2023 (D4 L1).
- Are unbeaten in their last four final group games (W1 D3), last losing in 2015 against Côte d'Ivoire.
- Have lost their third group match only three times previously, in 1972, 2000 and 2015.
- Their current campaign mirrors their start to the 1988 AFCON, also hosted by Morocco, which they went on to win. That year they beat Egypt 1–0, drew 1–1 with Nigeria and finished the group stage with a 0–0 draw against Kenya.

CAMEROON FACTS

- Hit the woodwork twice in their draw with Côte d'Ivoire.
- Junior Tchamadeu, aged 22 years and six days, became the youngest Cameroonian player to score at AFCON since Christian Bassogog, who was 21 years and 107 days old when he scored against Ghana in the 2017 semi-finals.
- Attempted 13 shots against Côte d'Ivoire, with only two on target.
- Attempted 338 passes against Côte d'Ivoire, compared to 339 by the Ivorians.
- Samuel Kotto had 87 touches, attempted 82 passes and completed 69 in the match.
- Che Malone won eight duels against Côte d'Ivoire, the most by any player in the game.
